Effective February 1, 2024, Pacer ETFs is pleased to announce a reduction in the management fee for the Pacer Metaurus US Large Cap Dividend Multiplier 400 ETF (QDPL). The management fee will decrease from 0.79% to 0.60%.

Before investing you should carefully consider the Fund's investment objectives, risks, charges, and expenses. This and other information is in the prospectus. An investment in the Funds is subject to investment risk, including the possible loss of principal. Pacer ETF shares may be bought and sold on an exchange through a brokerage account. Brokerage commissions and ETF expenses will reduce investment returns. There can be no assurance that an active trading market for ETF shares will be developed or maintained. The risks associated with this fund are detailed in the prospectus and could include factors such as concentration risk, derivatives risk, dividends risk, equity market risk, ETF risks, futures contract risk, government obligations risk, index provider risk, large-capitalization investing risk, limited operating history risk, nondiversification risk, other investment companies risk, passive investment risk, tracking error risk, trading halt risk, and/or special risks of exchange traded funds.

Dividends Risk: There can be no assurance that a dividend-paying company will continue to make regular dividend payments. The ability for a company to pay dividends is dependent on the economic climate and the companies' current earnings and capital resources. Changes in economic conditions or a company's earnings or financial resources could cause a company to reduce its dividend payments or suspend the payment of dividends altogether. The possibility that such companies could reduce or eliminate the payment of dividends in the future, especially if the companies are facing an economic downturn, could negatively affect the Fund's performance. The S&P 500® Index is a popular gauge of large-cap U.S. equities and includes 500 leading companies, capturing approximately 80% coverage of available market capitalization.

Metaurus Advisors LLC serves as investment sub-advisor to the Fund.
